Montclair Railway.

The question is frequently asked "when will the Montclair Railway Co. resume the running of trains?" Unfortunately, there seems to be no immediate prospect of a resumption of travel.

In the settlement of the litigation between the Messrs. Benson and the Montclair Railway Co., Messrs. Spaulding and Pratt, who then represented the interests of the road, were by a decree of Judge Deane, made personally responsible to Messrs. Benson for the amount of the verdict given, some $8,000. Upon paying this amount, the title to a strip of ground just above Forest Avenue passed to Messrs. Spaulding and Pratt, the control of the road having gone into the hands of other parties. Messrs. P. and S., a few weeks ago obtained an injunction restraining the company from operating over the property thus acquired by them. Meanwhile this end of the road is idle. The bridges are tumbling down, cutting off, embankments washing away—everything, apparently going to rack and ruin.

Mr. Hewitt, Trustee of the road, has published a letter in which, speaking of this injunction, he says:

"If the injunction at Bloomfield were removed, I should spare no effort to make arrangements by which the operation of the line could be resumed, and prove the assurance which have been given me by gentlemen identified with the property along the line. I have reason to think that the lower end of the road could soon be re-opened. Let me say, in conclusion, that I share fully in the annoyance to the public, which was so unnecessarily caused by the injunction, and that I am ready to do anything in my power to promote the convenience of the residents along the line of the road."

As late as June 9th, as it appears in The Tribune, Mr. Pratt, in reply to the Trustee's letter, stating that he was prepared to re-open the road, says the trains cannot run until he gets his money. Probably the gentlemen who obtained the injunction consider themselves fully justified in hindering the resumption of travel on the road. But people in this vicinity will qualify this claim by the opinion that the first managers of the road made a handsome thing out of it by side speculations, compared with which this $8,000 is a mere pittance. Real estate property on the line of the road was shrewdly bought up in anticipation of the projected improvement, as, for instance, at Arlington, and inducements were held out to business men and clerks in search of homes in the country to purchase lots and improve them. Many having done so, it seems rather tough to deprive these small owners of village plots of the advantages they had a reasonable right to expect from the operation of the road.

The Portland (Me.) Argus of recent date, contained the following paragraph, complimentary to our Bloomfield artist, Mr. J. B. Sward:

A FINE PICTURE.—The picture of Silver Thread Falls, by Mr. Sward, now on exhibition at Schumacher's Art Gallery, is attracting great and deserved attention. The fine coloring, solid and vigorous, the accuracy of drawing, the faithfulness in detail and the strength of the conception, are deserving of high praise. The scene is striking; a slender stream trickles down a hundred feet and falls into a small sheet of water, so still that at first view it seems unnatural. The rocks on either side are solid, almost square blocks, evenly finished in that thorough manner characteristic of Nature when she does undertake the job of masonry. The rocks are matted over, with clinging moss, and to the left is an evergreen tree, rendered with a masterly fidelity in bark and branch and foliage. A faint yellow light is struggling thro' the foliage, while overhead is a patch of blue sky.

Several other pictures by Mr. Sward are also on exhibition at the same place, all characterized by the same close study of Nature, the same careful drawing and excellent color. One of these, a Winter scene, is strongly suggestive of a slight side to the Atlantic or the Kirkwood. Another represents the naked Autumn woods thro' which the inevitable sportsman is prowling with his fowling-piece—a scene breathing the very spirit of an Autumn day. Still another, a charming little painting, pictures a ride thro' the woods, and gives Mr. Sward an opportunity to display his artistic treatment of water.

A most valuable pamphlet is the New York Tribune Extra, No. 19, just issued. It contains sixty-two pages, a rich and rare combination of the popular science of the day. For statement of contents, see advertisement in another column.

The First Anniversary of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Bloomfield was held in the Baptist Church on Tuesday and Wednesday last, afternoon and evening. Interesting addresses were made by Rev. H. F. Smith, a former pastor of the church, Rev. D. Anderson, of New York, and others.

Montclair Library Association.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Montclair Library Association was held in the rooms of the Library on Monday evening, May 12th, at 8 o'clock. The attendance was much larger than usual, and a growing interest in the enterprise was manifested. The Treasurer submitted the following report:

RECEIPTS.	PAID OUT.

From Donations, 100.00	For Fuel, 10.00
From Sales, 20.00	For Stationery, 5.00
From Interest, 10.00	For Postage, 5.00
From Other Sources, 10.00	For Repairs, 10.00
Total, $351.50	Total, $70.00

The Rev. D. S. Rodman, for the Library Committee, made the following report: The Library now numbers 1579 volumes. Among these are some of the best works in the English language, in science, literature and art. A new catalogue has been issued, in which are the names of some 1,200 of these volumes. During the past year, the Library has been opened 285 days, at least three hours per day; in the winter months from 2 to 7 P. M., in the other months from 3 to 6 P. M.

During this time there have been drawn from the Library 3,680 volumes, which are 1,039 more than were taken last year; this is an average of more than 12 daily. Of these 3,680, the largest number has been in the department of fiction; next in that of history; third of travels; fourth of poetry; fifth of biography; sixth of science.

Within this period there have been added to the Library 447 volumes of these 12 are Congressional Documents, and 228 numbers of the North American Review. These were presented to the Library and added greatly to its value for those who have the subjects of which they treat under investigation. The remaining 107 have been purchased at a cost of $257.36, and are classified as follows: Books of Science 4; History 4; Poetry 4; Literature and Arts 5; Religion and Morals 5; Essays 7; Travels 8; Miscellaneous 16; Biography 17; Works of Fiction 37. The number of subscribers annual and temporary is 64; the number of stockholders 76, making 140 families enjoying the full privileges of the Library.

During the entire year the rooms of the Library, pleasantly located, neatly furnished, comfortably warmed, and in the care of an efficient and intelligent Librarian, have been the frequent resort of both ladies and gentlemen, who there have had access not only to the current volumes, but to such periodicals as the "London Art Journal," "Pictorial America," "Every Saturday," "St. Nicholas," the weekly papers and the books of Reference, etc. These simple data furnish some food for reflection. The Library having become an Institution, it is exceedingly desirable that it be a real success, and a means of the highest good to the whole community. Who can estimate the possible value of one such institution dedicated to science and learning—the Repository of the best expressions and knowledge of the race, to the treasures in which all deposited can have so free and ready access?

But to secure the best results, it must have books which are books, books of the higher order in their departments, and of these a goodly number. To select the best books for such a library is also limited in its means at its disposal, and is obliged to have so much reference to the tastes of the community rather than to its real good. Its true object is to furnish the means of literary culture and of useful knowledge rather than of mental dissipation, which is as truly to be avoided by old and young as several dissipation. Our main object, given to us to improve, not to debauch; and our intellectual appetites, our imagination, reason and memory all ought to be purified, strengthened and improved by our daily reading.

Whether the Library accomplish this will depend upon the character of the books and the use the people make of them. If we want our children to imitate the sentiments and principles of the good and the great, we must become acquainted with the history of their expressions, their struggles and their triumphs. We must drink of the spring of knowledge, and be nourished and animated by the spirit which kindled their zeal and strengthened their virtue. The Library Committee therefore ask for an appropriation of $500 for the purchase of books for the current year. They recommend also that so be improved by the use of the books, such as additional shelving and windows; they also suggest a monthly meeting of the stockholders and their families for the reading of papers, reports or assigned topics, or for the general consideration of some previously selected subject which would have reference to the welfare of the whole community and the promotion among us of intelligence and virtue.

MRS. ISRAEL CRANE, Sec. MISS HELEN DODD, Com. REV. D. S. RODMAN, Librarian.

The reports of the Treasurer and Library Committee were accepted and approved. The appropriation asked for by the latter was unanimously voted, and the Treasurer directed to call upon each stockholder for 15 per cent. of the capital stock held by him, to be paid within 30 days; and a further installment of 10 per cent. to be paid within 90 days from date of call. A committee of three was also appointed, consisting of Messrs. Robert M. Boyd, J. C. Shafer and A. D. Dickinson, to solicit subscriptions to stock.

The following Directors were then chosen for the ensuing year:

J. J. H. Love, J. H. Pratt, J. P. Gross, Samuel Wilder, W. H. Van Slyke, C. K. Wilmer, F. H. Harris, Mrs. A. D. Dickinson, and Mrs. Israel Crane. At the subsequent organization the following officers were chosen:

President, J. J. H. Love; Vice President, Samuel Wilder; Sec. & Treas., Israel Crane; Librarian, Alice McLaughlin. Executive Committee: F. H. Harris, Julius H. Pratt, Robt. M. Boyd. The President then appointed for Library Committee: Mrs. Israel Crane, Miss Helen Dodd, Rev. D. S. Rodman. For Financial Committee: Israel Crane, W. H. Van Slyke, Henry A. Dike. Adjourned.

ISRAEL CRANE, Sec.

The Jubilee.

Wednesday next, the 17th inst., is the day announced for the Bloomfield Sunday School Jubilee. The arrangements have been so far perfected that we are enabled to publish the general plan and routine of exercises.

Should the appointed day prove stormy the celebration will be postponed until the next fair day. The church bells will be rung at 11 o'clock on the day of the procession. The exercises will begin at the First Presbyterian Church at 2 o'clock, under the direction of Mr. G. P. Lullam. None but members of the Schools will be allowed in the church until the Schools are all seated. The exercises in the church will be in the following order:

1. Singing.
2. Reading of Scriptures.
3. Prayer.
4. Singing.
5. Address.
6. Singing.

After which the Procession will be formed under the direction of Mr. JOHN F. SEYMOUR, Marshal, in the following order:

GRAPPELLA'S 7th REG'T BAND.

PASTORS.

FIRST DIVISION:
J. W. SEYMOUR, Marshal.
Brookdale Reformed Sunday School.
Watessing Methodist.

The Procession will march down the Park, thence through Franklin street to Green, Green to Broad, up Broad street to Belleville avenue, through Elm and Beech streets to the Park, where, after singing by the Schools, refreshments will be served.

Our Bloomfield Public School Teachers last Saturday enjoyed a delightful stage-ride to and from Irvington, where they went to participate in the meeting of the County Teachers' Association. The exercises were of more than ordinary interest. Mr. E. S. Stackpole, of the Bloomfield High School, opened the discussion upon Corporal Punishment by an essay which was highly commended. The question of the discussion, in effect that the Legislative prohibition of corporal punishment in the public schools ought to be repealed, was decided in the affirmative, 45 to 1. The hospitality of the people of Irvington was a pleasant feature of the occasion.

Our long term of hot and humid weather ended in a heavy thunder storm on Wednesday evening. A slight shower occurred about five o'clock, but soon after six a gale from the North came up suddenly, followed by a heavy fall of rain, with thunder and lightning, subsiding after half an hour's duration. At a quarter to 8 o'clock, another storm still more terrific in its electric phenomena, burst upon the town, the rain falling in torrents, while the lightning was vivid and incessant. So far as we are aware, no special damage resulted, either from the gale or the lightning.

Mr. Zophar B. Dodd, one of our oldest active citizens, is absent from town for a few days, having taken a pleasure journey to Niagara Falls. He is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Holt, from Trieste, France. Two young ladies, grand-daughters of Mr. D., also accompany him—Miss Minnie Dodd and Miss Louisa Oakes. We wish the party a safe and pleasant tour.

A Cameron steam pump, capable of pumping 300 gallons per minute, has been put up in Orange, in the rear of the Canfield street engine house, and is used in supplying the reservoir at the engine house with water for street sprinkling purposes.

Pedestrianism and Velocipede Racing are the prevailing sports in the Morris neighborhood. The "course" is around the triangular block bounded by Broad street, Bay Avenue and Morris Place.

The fourth Anniversary of the Sunday School of the First Congregational church of Montclair, will take place Sunday Eve, June 14th at 7 o'clock.

Mr. A. G. McComb sailed for Europe on Tuesday, to be absent a few weeks upon business and pleasure.

The newly elected Board of Directors of the Bloomfield Library Association meet to-night for organization.

Montclair.

Mr. Editor:—Your bright little paper reaches us regularly every Saturday, and is always a welcome guest. The variety and character of its general reading matter shows an appreciative taste, while the local intelligence, communications and advertisements denote that The Record is a lively and reliable newspaper. And yet, Mr. Editor, I have a little fault to find; you don't give us enough Montclair news. If you would send your reporter up here, say once a week, I know he would pick up local news which would pay you to publish. I don't mean gossip, but news which would be interesting to your readers, Bloomfielders as well as Montclairers.

The publisher of another weekly paper has attempted to represent our town in the newspaper line, but lately he seems to have given us the go-by. I suppose he is so deeply engrossed in regulating taxes in Bloomfield, and has turned out so much of his paper to the Belleville anti-church folks that there is little space or talent left for Montclair.

MONTCLAIR SUBSCRIBER.

We must admit that the above writer has had some cause for complaint. We have depended upon several in Montclair as correspondents, but it seems they are apt to forget us. In future we shall endeavor to remove the cause of complaint made by our Montclair subscriber, and attend personally to the obtaining of Montclair news.

AUGUST FLOWER.—The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effect; such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual constiveness, impaired blood, heartburn, water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of the food after eating, loss of spirits &c. CRYSTAL SPRING ICE.

WESLEY B. CORBY, Proprietor.

The Crystal Spring that gently flows
Through flowery banks of evergreen,
Like life it tells us to pursue
A course like this—so pure, serene.

SUMMER IDYLS.

The poet may write of the wine's rosy cup,
And of its bright virtues may sing,
But sweeter and cooler is the goblet when filled
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

Blethazzer of old, at his great royal feast,
When his palace with revel did ring,
Would fain have been, had his goblets been filled
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

The winter is past and the bright sunny days
Soon the roses and violets will bring,
And then in our homes the goblet we'll fill
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

Success to the cup that always does cheer,
And sweet peace and contentment does bring,
For of Earth's joyous gifts there is nothing so pure
As Ice from the Crystal Spring.

The above CRYSTAL ICE, which gave such solid satisfaction to my patrons, will be furnished by me as usual. Orders left at my office, in J. W. Lees' store, Cor. of
